POLITICAL OPINIONS.

Several Conventions Sitting On Silver.

IN OHIO AND INDIANA.

A Rabid Attack Made On President Cleveland.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 24.—The Democratic state convention met today. The silver men are in control. Temporary chairman, Taylor, has been a radical silver leader. General A. J. Warner, permanent chairman, was a pioneer free silver man.

ATTACKS CLEVELAND. Reuben Turley, of Tuscarora county, threw the convention into a turmoil of hisses and derisive shouts, by saying: "Looking down on this convention is that arch traitor, that Benedict Arnold of Democracy, Grover Cleveland." He wanted the portrait removed. For some moments Turley was hissed. The platform declaring for full and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 was adopted by a vote of 542 to 128. The unit rule was adopted.

IN INDIANA. INDIANAPOLIS, June 24.—The Democratic state convention met today. 75 percent of the delegates are for silver. R. C. Bell was chosen temporary chairman.

For the first time in the history of political conventions in Indiana, a female delegate was on the floor. She was Mrs. A. D. Leach, of Sullivan, a lawyer. The gold men were defeated on all contests, the platform declares for free silver at 16 to 1. The delegates to Chicago are instructed to vote for Governor Matthews. Turley made a silver speech. An attempt by a number to obtain a hearing in behalf of gold caused a scene of great disorder. The convention finally voted to give Bynum five minutes. R. J. Snively was nominated for governor.

N. Y. DEMOCRATS. SARATOGA, N. Y., June 24. The state Democratic convention was called to order by Chairman Hinchey who introduced Mayor John Boyd Thatcher, of Albany, as temporary chairman. The committee on credentials reported in favor of sitting delegates in every case. The report was adopted. The contestants from Queens and Wayne counties walked out amid hisses. The platform adopted declares that the decline in the commercial value of silver has brought about a disparity between that metal and gold, which can only be adjusted with the co-operation of other governments. Until an international agreement can be agreed upon the convention approves of the existing gold standard.

TEXAS SILVER DEMOCRATS. AUSTIN, Texas, June 24.—The silver state convention assembled at 9:30 a. m., and after several hours of discussion, adopted a platform declaring for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, regardless of the action of foreign countries. Eight delegates at large were selected to the Chicago convention. The convention almost unanimously instructed its delegates for Bland for president.

ILLINOIS FOR SILVER

Sucker State Democrats in Convention.

ALTGELD RE-NOMINATED.

Henry M. Teller Is Called a Great Statesman.

PEORIA, Ill., June 24.—The Illinois Democratic convention assembled and Chairman A. M. Bell made a speech counseling prudence without fear, and declaring against a straddle on the money question.

For over an hour before the state Democratic convention was to convene, thousands of people from all over the state began to besiege the hall. It was filled up and crowds were seeking admission in vain. There was no excitement or playing of hands. At 12:30 W. H. Hinrichsen, chairman of the Democratic central committee, called the house to order. Rev. Mr. McVeaty prayed to the Almighty to restore the country to prosperity, and that the masses of the people might be relieved from oppression and wrong. The audience applauded the prayer. The chairman announced A. H. Bell as temporary chairman.

Before taking his seat Chairman Bell made the following address: "If there was a time in the history of any political party when every step should be taken with prudence, but without fear, and when wise councils should prevail, that time is now at hand for the Democratic party."

"Great issues are before the people. Momentous issues are at stake. This year will become famous in the calendar. Four years ago we nominated a man for presidency from the state of New York, despite the protests of the delegations from that state. May God forgive us for it. There must be a limit even to Divine wrath, for we have since then been beaten as with a scourge of scorpions."

"At that election we carried almost every state and achieved the most complete victory at the polls in the history of this land. Our hopes were then bright. We felt that our party had come into power to stay. But, alas, our president, forgetting the tariff issue, on which we had so grandly won, brought confusion into his party by striking down with traitorous hands the only apology that still remained for the coinage of the people's silver. As a result, two years ago we were routed at every point, and today the Democratic hosts of Illinois, whom you represent, have not a representative in congress."

"A proclamation went out to our people that the Democracy of this state should assemble in convention and define the position of the party on the money question. The rank and file of the Democratic party had always been for the free coinage of gold and silver at the old ratio, and a majority of our representatives in congress has always been in favor of it. But the declarations of the party had heretofore been couched in equivocal terms. The time had come when equivocation was to be superseded by unequivocal, vigorous statements. The people discussed the question and it became manifest that a great majority of the people were in favor of the people's money, and more of it."

"The advocates of the single gold standard said that first the party would not declare for free silver, then, finding themselves beaten at every point, they sought to belittle this great gathering of the people and said it was not a Democratic convention, but a convention of silver cranks. The great convention assembled. It declared to the world that the democracy of Illinois was unequivocally in favor of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without the consent or co-operation of any nation on the face of the earth. Our fellow citizens of other states read our platform, caught up the inspiration, and the movement increased. State after state in this great Mississippi valley and in the west and south, have joined in the great movement of the people."

"The Republican national convention last week, dominated by the northeastern section of the Union, declared for a single gold standard. In my mind's eye I can see the conspirators at work. There are Platt and Quay, Depew and Hobart, and Lodge and Hanna, and a lot of ignorant negroes who, for ready cash, would sell themselves and their posterity into a worse slavery than their race ever knew. The great statesman of the west, under the leadership of Senator Henry M. Teller, of Colorado, withdrew from the convention."

"What will our national convention do? Will the east control its action and write its platform? Rest assured that it will exhaust every effort to do so. I would have our national convention declare its purpose fearlessly and explicitly, and let those who will. I am tired of following New England or New York. Let imperial Illinois lead the way. Let Illinois be henceforth the Empire state."

"We are told by some of our friends that we must have harmony in the party and that for harmony's sake we must compromise; we must conciliate; we must straddle. There will be no straddling this campaign. The line will be sharply drawn. We must be 16-to-1 men or gold men. When our nation declares for 16 to 1 bimetalism, what will be the result? God only knows. But this great question must be settled, and settled right. It may not be settled this year, but it will be settled. The duty to act fearlessly is upon us; the result is with the great God of nations, who doeth all things well."

"The great agricultural states of the west and south are to be arrayed against the bondholding, manufacturing east. It is the people against the plutocrat. I have confidence to believe that the cause of the people will triumph. If we fail now let us register a vow in heaven not to cease our efforts till wrongs of the people are redressed. Either we will win in the end, or a moneyed aristocracy will be recognized by law. Though seeming difficulties may confront us, and though trouping hardships may oppress, let us fight them down with a dogged determination that has no compromise to offer, and when at last success shall crown our efforts, the victory will be all the more complete, the crown brighter, the rest sweeter, and though the seeds were sown in tears, the harvest shall be gathered in joy."

The temporary chairman was frequently interrupted by applause. When he said: "Four years ago the Democrats of the state supported a man from New York and may God forgive them for it," there arose an outburst of applause lasting several minutes. A moment later he paid a compliment to Governor Altgeld and the whole assemblage arose, shouted, screamed and threw up their hats and handkerchiefs. There was another demonstration when he referred to the free coinage of silver. When he had finished, the great audience gave vent to deafening applause.

It was given out by one of the free silver leaders shortly before the convention was called to order, that the platform would declare for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, and that the present tariff laws would not be disturbed.

The ticket named by the convention was as follows: For governor, John P. Altgeld, of Chicago; lieutenant-governor, Monroe C. Crawford, of Union county; secretary of state, Finis T. Downing, of Cass county; auditor, Edward C. Pace, of Washington county; attorney-general, George A. Trude, of Chicago; university trustees, Julia Holmes Smith, R. N. Morgan, W. M. Graham; delegates at large, John P. Altgeld, S. P. McConnell, W. H. Hinrichsen, Geo. W. Fithian; national committeeman, Thomas G. Hahan, of Chicago.

Sure to Win. The people recognize and appreciate real merit. That is why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sales in the world. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures—absolutely, permanently cures. It is the One True Blood Purifier. Its superior merit is an established fact, and merit wins.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, headache. The dealer who says, "I have no Hoe Cake soap," practically admits that he does not sell first quality goods. If he says he has something "just as good" you will know at once that he is trying to sell you an inferior article. There is more clothing destroyed by poor soap than by actual war, as the free alkali rots the cloth. Hoe Cake contains neither free alkali nor worthless filling.

TRUSTEES' MEETING.

Proceedings of Tuesday's Meeting.

FACULTY IS RE-ELECTED.

Academy Graduating Exercises Last Night.

The trustees of Willamette university held their regular annual business meeting, at the University Tuesday. They were in session nearly all day, and considerable business was transacted before its adjournment last evening. President Hawley was re-elected, as was also the entire faculty, without a change. The personnel of the faculty is as follows:

W. C. Hawley, professor of history and political science.

F. S. Dunn, professor of Latin and Greek.

J. T. Matthews, professor of philosophy and mathematics.

L. G. Cochran, professor of natural science.

Mrs. M. T. Cochran, professor of English and literature.

Miss Sara N. Brown, professor of elocution and oratory.

Miss Minnie Frickey, professor of French and German.

Miss Mary Reynolds, professor of preparatory department.

Miss Craig, professor of art department.

Bishop Cranston was elected to a place on the board of trustees to succeed Leo Willis, whose term expired this year. Mrs. G. W. Gray and Mrs. C. B. Moores, whose terms as trustees also expired this year, were elected to succeed themselves. The officers of the board are the same as those of last year.

President Hawley's third annual report is a lengthy and complete document, containing a great deal of interesting information, concerning the management of the University the past year. The financial report speaks well for the management of the school. The total receipts amounted to $5,267.15 while the expenditures for the year footed up to $5,252.20 leaving a balance of $14.95 in the treasury. In his report the president speaks in the highest terms of the management of the College of Music under the efficient supervision of Profs. Heritage and Winkler. Statistics as to the attendance in the different departments of the school show a marked increase over that of the preceding year in nearly all of the departments. The number of students registered in the different departments of the University last year was 946.

ACADEMY GRADUATING EXERCISES. Again last evening the large auditorium and gallery of the M. E. church were filled to overflowing with the friends and relatives of the Oregon Institute, preparatory to college, of Willamette University. Suspended just over the graduating class was the class motto "Ne dum quis" which, translated, reads "Spin while you may."

Shortly after 8 o'clock the graduating class led by President Hawley marched down the aisle and seated themselves upon the platform. Miss Nettie Beckner opened the program with a piano solo which was nicely executed. A. F. Bittner's oration "Influences of Christianity" was well delivered. The early days and rapid progress of christianity and at the same time the bettering of mankind was ably set forth in the oration. Miss Pearl Applegate's oration, "The Ideal and the Real," was quite lengthy but very interesting. The young lady alluded to what might be realized by the administration of ideal government.

Mrs. Mary E. Kinney sang a beautiful solo after which Simon P. Early delivered an oration on "Union." The orator holds that there will be a time when all will be united in one government. "In union there is strength." Union is not ideal but real. Union accounted for the success of the Roman Empire, the thirteen colonies in their struggle with England, and the north in its struggle with the south during the Civil war. Miss Lelo Nicklin delighted the audience with one of her best violin solos, and Miss Ida Harris gave an oration on "Nature and Nurture." "The Motive Power of the Future" was the very interesting subject of P. L. Brown's oration. Being an electrical engineer, Mr. Brown is quite conversant with what may be accomplished with that wonderful element and his oration was highly instructive. H. G. Kundret, Salem's popular tenor singer, sang, "He Was a Prince" and was accorded a prolonged encore. "Crystal Qualities" was the subject Miss Elizabeth Shepard had chosen for her oration which indeed gave evidence of careful preparation. Prof. Emil Winkler appeared in one of his best performances.

The address to the graduates by Rev. J. P. Farmer, although quite brief, was most fitting and appropriate to the young ladies and gentlemen just entering upon life's duties. Then followed the presentation of diplomas by President Hawley who preceded that part of the exercises, with some happy remarks to the class, congratulating them upon their success and attainments.

Diplomas in the classical department, admitting the possessors thereof to the freshman class were then given Messrs. F. E. Brown, A. F. Bittner, and S. P. Early.

Diplomas in the scientific department to the Freshman class were awarded: Misses Pearl Applegate, Jessie Settemier, Fernie Bentley, Bessie Burkhardt, Rebecca Baldree; Messrs. P. L. Brown, James Shives, R. W. Williams and R. Guis.

Diplomas from the normal course showing that the holders thereof had completed that course were then granted Misses Pearl Applegate, Edna Price, Ida Harris, Fernie Bentley, Bessie Burkhardt and Cora Litchfield.

Progress of the Bimetallic Movement.

AN UNION FOR PRINCIPLE

It Is Endorsed by John C. Young of Baker County.

McMINNVILLE, June 23.—(Special to the JOURNAL.—)The week opens propitious for the organization of the new party here, and a big convention is promised. Word is received from nearly every county in the state, that they will have delegations present, Hon. J. C. Young of Baker City, chairman of the People's party state central committee, called at headquarters on Saturday, and will be a delegate to the state convention. Nearly every prominent silver man in the state will attend the convention. Since the adoption of the gold standard plank by the St. Louis convention, many silver Republicans are outspoken in their advocacy of the new party.

We are making history very fast now, and the convention of July 9 will mark a new era in the political history of the state.

ENDORSED BY AN OPPONENT.

Copying what THE JOURNAL said of Col. Cooper, the McMinnville Transcript says: "The Transcript can further say that Col. Cooper was always near the helm of the new party here, and we believe in giving credit where it is due, though we did not exactly approve of his course. His pen-marks were in its doctrines, platforms, convention calls and songs, and no one knowing the man can believe he was in just to beat his old time friends out of a job, but from principle. He is an able surveyor, as his work for the United States as well as Yamhill county will testify. He made an excellent postmaster and is now president of McMinnville's Board of Trade. His official and political life, as well as social, is absolutely clean. If the present political upheaval throws new men to the surface, Mr. Cooper will be a safe man anywhere."

Commendation from an opponent is certainly merited. Col. Cooper was hauled through the streets of McMinnville in a carriage drawn by his associates while two thousand people cheered at the ratification, of this county victory. In his soldier boy days he was borne on the shoulders of his cheering comrades for heroic deeds. It can be said of him then that "peace hath its victories no less renowned than those of war." If he is a safe man at county and state headquarters why not have him at the national headquarters of the committee of the new party. With the prestige of victory and his experience Oregon is entitled to recognition.

In compliance with the call issued for a state convention of the Union Bimetallic party, at McMinnville, Thursday, July 9, 1896, at 11 o'clock a. m. the undersigned hereby unite in a call for a mass convention of bimetallicists of Marion county, to be held at Salem, Friday, June 26, 1896, at 11 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of choosing 21 delegates to said convention, and forming a permanent organization in this county. We therefore earnestly call upon all men who favor the use of gold and silver as standard money, and are opposed to the single gold standard, and favor the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver, to join in a united effort in convention and at the ballot box until this is accomplished.
